The West End Rambling for Pleasure Society

Sunday 13th December 2015

This is a pleasant walk around the Normandy/Merrist Wood areas. Although there are a number of stiles to climb the going is easy with pleasant views of the surrounding countryside from some of the higher points. If there has been much rain beforehand one area, near the end, can be a little wet. There will be the usual break for a snack about halfway round.

To get to the public car park in Normandy (at 10 a.m.), and assuming you are approaching it from Pirbright, keep on the A324 and half-a-mile past Henley Business Park on the left take the left turn into Hunts Hill Road. About half-a-mile along this road the A323 is reached and the public car park is over on the right.

We wish you all a happy Christmas and New Year

Note that the annual subscription for 2016 becomes due in January. The amount remains the same as for the previous few years and is £10 per person. This payment covers administration costs and the insurance premium.
