

TWERPS

The West End Rambling for Pleasure Society

Sunday 12th July 2009

Keith Atkins has kindly devised this walk which is about 6½ miles long and fairly flat nearly all the way with a long steep flight of steps towards the end. Keith currently has a foot problem but has agreed to lead the walk if his foot allows. A short part of the route is through a built up area with some traffic noise. We should be back at the car park by 2p.m..

We meet at 10a.m. at the lay-by just outside the Bishopsgate entrance to Windsor Great Park (OS Explorer map 160 - grid ref. SU 980 721), the route heads north through the Park to Crimp Hill cemetery on the edge of Old Windsor. With luck, we will see one of the Park herds of deer on the way! We then walk through a built up area to reach the Thames Path near Albert Bridge. Turning east we walk alongside the river to Runnymede, crossing the A308 to the Magna Carta monument and then face a long stepped climb up Coopers Hill to the stunning Air Forces Memorial. The route then turns back to the car park via the edge of Englefield Green. For those who want a shorter walk, there is a signed route back to Englefield Green at the point of crossing the A 308 at Runnymede.

To reach the start, take the A30 towards Egham, turning left on to the A328 at traffic lights, signed Englefield Green, just before Royal Holloway University. Follow the road past the cemetery to the Green and turn left into Bishopsgate Road. The lay-by is at the end of the road just past the Fox and Hounds PH and if that is full there is a smaller lay-by just before the pub. Both the Fox and Hounds and the Barley Mow at Englefield Green provide an excellent range of food and beers.

West End to Bishopsgate Road parking - about 25 mins. Walk No. 276
